How CareCircle works

1

Parent creates the circle
The parent creates a private care space, goals, interventions, and recurring daily-care items.

2

Caregiver joins by invitation
The caregiver verifies the invited email address, accepts access, and sees the shared plan.

3

Everyone stays coordinated
Members complete care, record outcomes, share handoffs, and receive private activity notifications.

What is included

1

Daily care
Recurring daily and weekday checklists with completion history and attribution.

2

Shared care plan
Measurable goals and step-by-step interventions that caregivers can follow.

3

Progress
Structured outcomes show whether support is decreasing and goals are being reached.

4

Handoffs
Updates, requests, replies, and noteworthy events keep the circle coordinated.

5

Community
A privacy-conscious place to exchange questions, tips, resources, and milestones.

6

Activity and push
A shared audit trail plus optional private web-push notifications.

Private by default

A care circle is visible only to verified, invited members. Push notifications use generic text so private care details do not appear on a lock screen.

Set up care and track the day

Parents have full management access. They define the shared plan; caregivers follow it and contribute daily observations.

- 1 Create the care plan
Add measurable weekly goals and practical interventions with clear steps.
- 2 Add recurring care
Create daily or weekday templates with a time and concise instructions.
- 3 Complete Today's Care
Each completion records who did it and when. An item can also be reopened with Undo.

Invitation created. The CareCircle link was copied — send it to the invited member so they can sign in and accept.

MEASURABLE PROGRESS Sep 7–Sep 13

Weekly goal progress

Record a structured outcome after a real opportunity. Independent and one-prompt outcomes count toward the weekly target. Checking off items in Today's Care keeps the routine on track but does not move these numbers on its own.

Join safely and collaborate

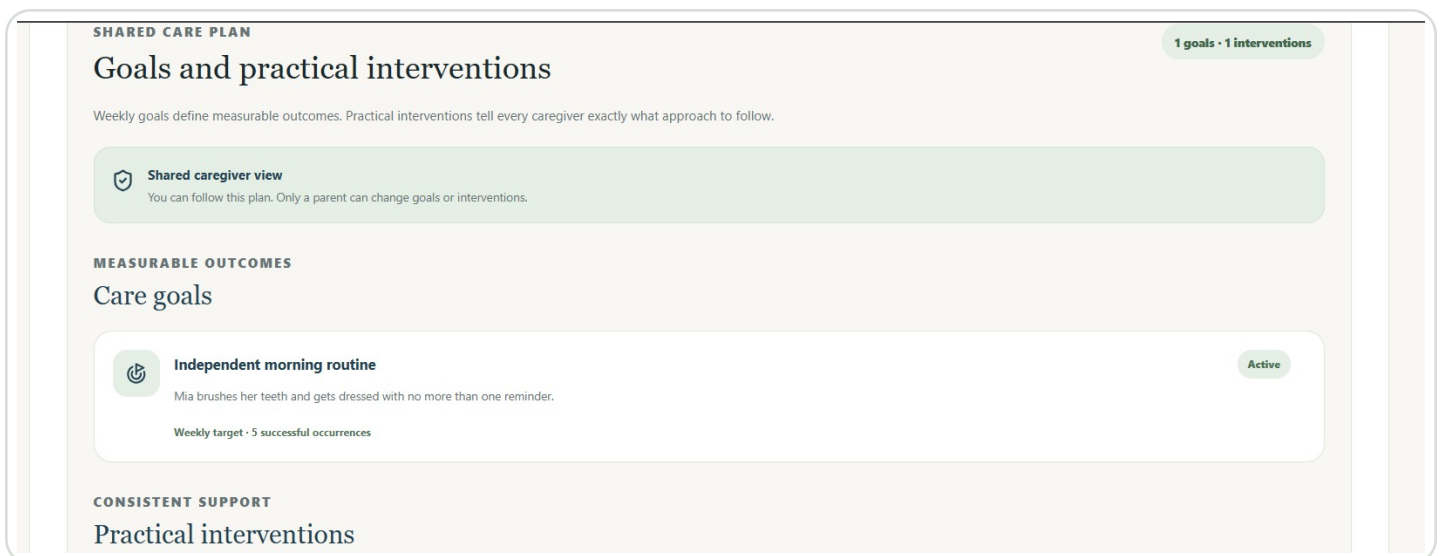

Caregivers receive only the access granted through a matching verified invitation. They cannot change parent-managed goals or interventions.

- 1 Open the invitation email
Use the Open CareCircle link, create or sign in to the invited account, and verify the same email address.

The invitation screen identifies the private care circle and the role being granted.

- 2 Accept the invitation
Select Accept invitation. Existing care items, updates, and plan details become available immediately.
- 3 Use the shared plan
Complete assigned care, add progress observations, reply to updates, and participate in the community. Parent-only editing controls remain hidden.

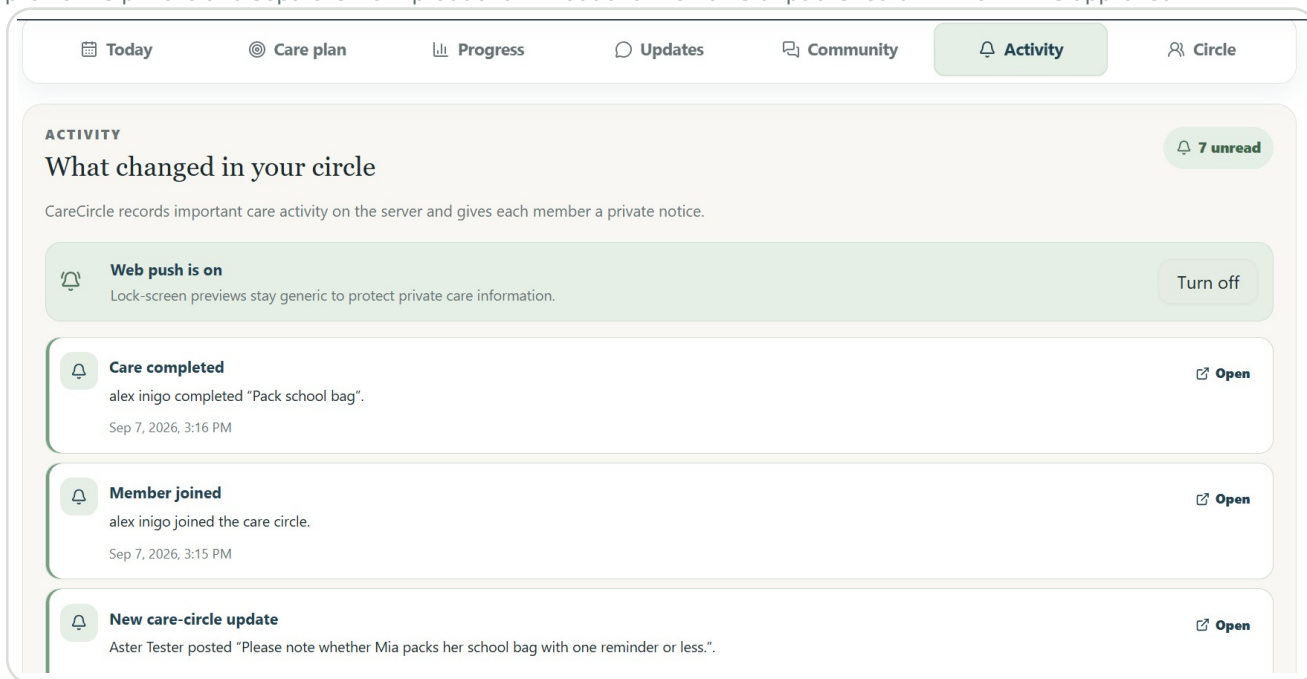

The caregiver Care Plan view is read-only and clearly explains that only a parent can make changes.

What to verify in 10 minutes

The preview is private and separate from production. Production remains unpublished until the MVP is approved.

Activity records important changes. Optional web push uses generic lock-screen text to protect private care information.
